Hyaluronic Acid

Gebro Hyaluronic Acid consists entirely of pure active ingredients. Hyaluronic Acid, a moisturizing agent developed against excessive dryness, can hold water up to 50 times its weight. It contains components in the form of polysaccharides containing amino acids called glucosaminoglycan, which are found naturally in the connective tissues, joints and skin in the body. These components provide flexibility, strength and moisture to the connective tissue. One of these components, Hyaluronic Acid, prevents transepidermic water loss, increases cellular compliance and helps to increase collagen formation. Thus, the skin is gradually tightened and moisturized. It not only tightens but also treats the signs of aging.

Use of

The product should be used thinly. In order to increase the tightening effect, we recommend thinning with DMAE, which is an effective lifting in the use of the face area, and Organic Silica, which is also used in the treatment of cellulite, in the use of the body area. Thinning ratio is given in the adjacent table.

Pyruvic acid is an important organic compound for cell metabolism, as it is essential in the production of ATP (provides energy to the cell) and glucose synthesis, and is therefore essential for the correct functioning of the cell. Pyruvate has been shown to protect against cell aging and protect the cell against UVB damage. The main purpose of the new combination of H-500 and pyruvate acid is to improve and optimize mesotherapy treatments. H-500 Plus contains the same ingredients as H-500 plus Pyruvate to accelerate the cell renewal process with amazing anti-aging results. Hyaluronic acid is mainly responsible for maintaining water levels in the skin and provides a long-lasting physiological effect. It increases the firmness and elasticity of the skin by protecting the fibers that support the tissues. Pro-Collagen peptides help improve skin smoothness and elasticity, and pyruvate accelerates the result of treatment.
